B.C. AND ALBERTA TO DISCUSS TRADE

trade relations between Alberta and British Columbia have been mooted.

In May, 1936, Hon. C. C. Ross, then Minister of Lands and Mines in the Aberhart Government, since resigned, suggested in Vancouver a closer interlocking of business between the two provinces in commodities that each produce for export. He said Alberta was ready to develop interprovincial trade to the utmost extent.

UNION SUGGESTED

EDMONTON (CP)—E. L. Gray,

Alberta Liberal party leader, Tuesday night said Alberta should "look west" if the province was "thinking of a union of provinces," as he urged development of a "western viewpoint."

Mr. Gray referred to recent statements by Premier Duplessis of Quebec and Premier Hepburn of Ontario regarding Dominion-provincial relations when addressing a joint meeting of the Edmonton Young Men's Liberal Association and the Twentieth Century Club.

"We have been looking to Ontario and Quebec as our source of manufactured goods," Mr. Gray said. "Yet right to the west of us is an area just as rich in power and natural resources as the east, producing only 7 per cent of the total."

"It seems necessary to look to the Pacific Coast and develop there to build up a western viewpoint," he said.

Stating union of the three prairie provinces had been advocated since 1912, Mr. Gray said "one of the principles of Liberalism was that there should be no centralization of authority."

DOMINION SEES REVENUES GROW

Gain of $61,155,455 April-December Above Similar Previous Period

OTTAWA (CP)—National Revenue figures released by Revenue Minister J. L. Isley today show that net collections from customs, excise and income tax for the nine-month period, April 1 to December 31, 1937, were $359,315,270. This compares with $298,159,815 collected during the corresponding period of 1936, a net gain of $61,155,455.

Customs-excise revenue, which totaled $251,928,416, an increase of $45,268,762, was made up as follows: Customs duties $73,320,740, increase $11,720,375; excise taxes $136,343,681, increase $27,712,242; excise duties $41,749,167, increase $5,864,468; sundry collections $604,848, increase $71,677.

Income tax revenue climbed to $107,390,833 for the first nine months of this fiscal year, a net gain of $15,790,692 over the same period of 1936.

All districts with the exception of two showed gains, with Toronto well in the lead with collections totaling $36,609,758, increase $5,687,231; Montreal second with a revenue of $28,763,133, increase $4,501,328; London third with $9,304,061, increase $1,175,424, and Vancouver-Victoria fourth with $8,150,749, increase $2,070,520.

DECEMBER FIGURES

Revenues for December amounted to $33,441,686 against $29,130,953 for December, 1936, a net increase of $4,310,733. This total was made up as follows: Customs-excise $28,487,960, increase $3,209,107; income tax $4,953,726, increase $1,101,626. Customs duties in December cruits outnumber civilians. By spring China expects to have 80 full divisions in the field.

Guiding the mobilization of men, money and munitions is Gen. Chiang Kai-shek, vested with full power over military and civil life of China under a government reorganized on a war basis.

Under Chiang, Dr. H. H. Kung—Chiang's brother-in-law and China's leading finance expert—recently was placed in charge of economic affairs and industries. Last summer Dr. Kung toured European capitals enlisting credit and munitions.

Gen. Ho Ying-chin, Minister of War, veteran of the 1911 and 1913 revolutions and a graduate of the Japanese military college, was named chief of the general staff.

FUNDS AVAILABLE

Officials insisted the government had enough money and arms for a long struggle.

The Chinese government reorganization included establishment of six new boards and enlargement of the advisory council for national defence to a membership of 75.

AID FROM RUSSIA

PEIPING (AP)—Foreign observers here believe Soviet Russia is supplying China with arms and war materials sufficient only to continue resisting Japan with guerrilla tactics, but insufficient to "turn the tide decisively."

Russia, to render effective aid, must send over 200 truckloads of supplies daily, far greater quantities than are now reaching China.

Reliable reports stated 100 truckloads of light munitions are reaching Sianfu, Shensi province, weekly by way of China's farthest western province, Sinkiang.

DR. CHEN SPEAKS

OTTAWA (CP)—Dr. C. L. Chen, newly-appointed Chinese consul-general for Canada, in a service club address here Wednesday night, predicted a possible alliance between China and Russia.

"If the whole world forsakes us then China may some day shake hands with the Russian bear, and if that day comes then there will be waiting in the homes of the Japanese. Then Canada and the United States had better say nothing, even as they are saying nothing now."

Canada, Dr. Chen asserted, might yet regret neglecting to build a fleet and fortify the coasts.

"You will rue the day you neglected your western defences. If you think you remain secure by folding your arms depending on the English and the Monroe Doctrine, you will be in the position of China, which relied on the Kellogg Pact."

In addition to the Alberta press bill the Supreme Court of Canada is to hear arguments, the power of the Dominion Government to disallow Alberta legislation and the power of the Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta to withhold assent to bills passed by the Legislature. The two bills, besides the press measure, are one respecting taxation of banks and a bill to amend and consolidate the Credit of Alberta Regulation Act.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Captain Alva D. Bernhard, chief of staff to Rear-Admiral Ernest J. King, commander of aircraft, scouting force, announced late this morning that a United States navy bombing plane with seven men aboard had been missing since yesterday.

No details were available immediately. The bomber was reported to be attached to squadron VP-7. Names of the men aboard were not released.

Capt. Bernhard said the big patrol bomber had been missing since yesterday evening, "when we lost radio contact with it."

"The plane was on a routine flight," he added. "I am not at liberty to say where it was bound or where it was believed to be when we lost contact."

BELIEVE PLANE SAFE

"We believe the plane will be found. It is one of the flying boats capable of landing in any kind of sea."

Planes and surface vessels of the fleet searched all night for the missing plane, it was learned. The search was being pressed with vigor today.

PRESS FIGHTS ALBERTA BILL ASCENSORSHIP MOVE

Canada in relation to all matters not coming within the classes of subjects by this act assigned exclusively to the provinces, or in the alternative, falls within the exception found in sub-head (a) of section 92 as an undertaking extending beyond the limits of the province.

CRIMINAL CODE

"(b) If the legislation is what it purports to be, an act to ensure the publication of accurate news and information, its subject is criminal law. The Dominion Parliament by section 126 of the Criminal Code has made it an offence to publish wilfully and knowingly any false news whereby injury or mischief is or is likely to be occasioned to any public interest. The Alberta legislation now under consideration seems to be an attempt to supplement this provision of the Criminal Code.

"(c) The act is part of a larger body of legislation which has for its avowed object the introduction into the province of Alberta of a new political and economic system known as Social Credit. The keynote of this system is the so-called monetization of provincial credit, which must mean the creation and issue of currency of paper money by the province.

"(d) The proposed legislation attempts to constitute the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council a court to try the question of whether any newspaper has been guilty of any contravention of any of the provision of the act.

"(e) The proposed legislation would destroy the status and powers of companies within its scope which were incorporated by Dominion charter."

The provision in the bill requiring newspapers to publish corrective or amplifying matter on any statement relating to government policy, the factum says, could be and was intended to be used to compel the newspaper to publish propaganda in favor of the policy of Social Credit.

The provision compelling the disclosure of the names of writers and sources of information would not be limited to statements of government policy. It would, in practice, deprive the newspapers of a large body of news which they receive in confidence from sources that cannot be disclosed.

NATIONAL INTEREST

"Both the compelling of the printing of statements which the newspapers do not desire to print any may not believe to be true and the suppressing of news which the newspapers do desire to print amount to censorship of the press," the factum states.

"It will no doubt be contended that the bill can be supported as legislation dealing with property and civil rights in the province, or as a matter of merely local or private nature in the province."

"It is submitted that the publication of newspapers in Canada is an undertaking of national interest and importance, and that it cannot be held to come within these categories merely because every newspaper has its office of publication within some particular province."

The factum, saying there are upwards of 100 daily and more than 1,200 weekly newspapers in Canada, then describes the system of the Canadian Press.

All the daily papers of Alberta are members of the Canadian Press and the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association and a majority of the weekly newspapers are members of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, says the factum.

In addition to the Alberta press bill the Supreme Court of Canada is to hear arguments, the power of the Dominion Government to disallow Alberta legislation and the power of the Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta to withhold assent to bills passed by the Legislature. The two bills, besides the press measure, are one respecting taxation of banks and a bill to amend and consolidate the Credit of Alberta Regulation Act.

U.S. Forts On Border Debated

Toronto Star Says Republic Fears Canadian Weakness Against Invaders

TORONTO (CP)—The Daily Star, in a dispatch from its Ottawa correspondent, says:

"Unless Canada takes adequate measures to defend her coastlines, particularly on the Pacific, the 4,000-mile unfortified boundary between the United States and Canada may soon become a thing of the past."

"Information reaching Ottawa is to the effect that United States army and navy officials regard the weakness of Canadian defenses as a menace to U.S. security. While no effort is made to stampede Canada into big armament outlays, the U.S. officials say the alternative is strong United States defenses along the Canadian border in coastal areas to prevent any aggressor using Canadian territory as a base of attack on the United States."

NO OTTAWA COMMENT

OTTAWA (CP)—Government officials would not comment today on an Ottawa dispatch to The Toronto Star declaring that unless Canada take adequate coastal defence measures the United States might build forts along the international boundary to guard against invasion by another nation through the Dominion.

It was recalled, however, that already Defence Minister MacKenzie had announced elaborate additions and improvements to coastal fortifications on the British Columbia coast.

In an address delivered recently in Toronto Mr. MacKenzie announced the government was paying particular attention to coastal protection and would place new fortifications at Esquimalt, Vancouver and York Island.

Emphasizing the importance of the aircraft in defence operations, the minister declared his department would obtain as quickly as possible necessary reconnaissance, torpedo-bomber, observation and fighter aircraft to strengthen this arm of the forces.

Mr. MacKenzie at present is on a cruise of the West Indies and will not be in his office until the end of the week.

Confidence Is Declared Need

U.S. Senate Committee On Employment Heard By General Motors Head

WASHINGTON (AP)—President William S. Knudsen of the General Motors Corporation, appearing before the Senate's special unemployment committee today, said his "one hope" for immediate stabilization of work was that "the people generally will feel a little more confident of the future."

"We need more assurance all the way down the line about this year and the years after," said the president of the corporation which laid off 30,000 men January 1 because of a sales decline during November and December.

Knudsen declared the decline was the severest in his company's history. He blamed it not on car prices, but on a view held by the "average man" that "work is going to be slack."

Knudsen declined to approve, as far as its effect on the automotive industry was concerned, President Roosevelt's current suggestion for planned industrial production as a way of keeping the level of employment reasonably steady.

FORECAST IMPOSSIBLE

The General Motors chief said he knew no way to forecast a sudden sales drop such as that of November and December.

Citing the President's informally discussed proposal for gearing production to consumption estimates made six months, or a year in advance, committee chairman Byrnes, South Carolina Democrat, asked whether it would be possible for the motor industry to co-operate with government officials in estimating purchasing power for forecasting car sales.

"I don't think there is a way in God's world to forecast a 50 per cent drop in business in three weeks, such as we had in December," Knudsen replied.

HOLD-UP MEN GET MOTORMAN'S CASH

Will you with a bullet," was the command from one of the men as the other started into the car.

"Where's the big wad?" asked one of the men as the fare box was being taken.

"You can have it if you find it," was Mr. Doherty's reply, indicating he had no bills on him.

Apparently doubting him, the thieves searched him thoroughly without success.

This threat of not to move was repeated as the men prepared to make their getaway in a car parked near the terminus.

One of the men was reported attired in a checkered coat, and the smallest of the three appeared to give the orders.

Mrs. H. Patzer, 2629 Currie Road, was a passenger in the car at the time and had hardly an opportunity to realize what was happening before it was all over.

H. G. WILSON DIES SUD- DENLY

Christ College, Oxford, for four years, and upon his return here joined the staff of R. P. Rithet & Company. It was there he learned the rudiments of sound business and fair dealing that stood him in good stead all his life and made him such a popular figure with his employees as well as his business associates.

After his business training with the Rithet company, Mr. Wilson entered his father's firm, Cowan and Wilson, whose store was on lower Yates Street. Then his father took over the entire firm.

It became known as Wilson Brothers, and Cowan was sent to Vancouver to open a branch there, remaining for several years as its manager. Then he returned to Victoria to manage the local firm. He remained in that position until the business was acquired by MacDonald's Consolidated. He retired from active business about 10 years ago.

The crippled children at the Queen Alexandra Solarium became his special interest. He often entertained them at his summer home at Shawnigan Lake, and provided treats for them at the Solarium. For years he was a member of the board of directors.

In the old days Mr. Wilson was active in Board of Trade affairs and seldom missed a meeting, doing all he could to advance Victoria. At one time he was the board's president. The Union and Pacific Clubs also knew him well, and for a term he was president of the Pacific Club. In his younger days he was a fine athlete and a member of the Victoria rugby team. Later he played golf and was often on the links at Colwood and Oak Bay before he had to give up the game because of his health. He last played in the summer of 1936.

There survive his widow, who, before her marriage was Harriet E. Ross, daughter of a pioneer family; one son, Ross Wilson, manager of Ames and Company in Vancouver; a daughter, Kathleen, Mrs. W. B. Lambert of Victoria; two brothers, Charles E. Wilson and Joseph E. Wilson of Victoria; a sister, Mrs. J. W. Church of 46 Douglas Street, and a granddaughter, Diane Wilson. Two brothers, William and Biggerstaff, died some years ago.

Both defensive and offensive operations were widened after insurgents had captured two ridges, known as El Petrow and El Pozuelo, between Conced and Teruel.

The ridges are west of the secondary highway between Celadas and Teruel, key point in any insurgent drive toward government Valencia on the Mediterranean.

Fresh brigades moved into the front lines on both sides to relieve forces tired by heavy fighting in the severe cold, and to fill ranks depleted by constant attacks and weather casualties.

MADRID (AP)—The government declared today the still undecided battle of Teruel had cost the insurgents more than 10,000 casualties and heavy losses of war materials.

A communique said about 3,000 insurgents were killed, about 6,000 wounded and several thousand taken prisoner during the three weeks of fighting in frigid weather.

Decisive Engagement Expected at Spanish City As More Troops Arrive

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier (AP)—Spanish government and insurgent troops extended their lines to the north of Teruel today in what military dispatches predicted would be a "decisive" engagement before the gates of the provincial capital, 135 miles east of Madrid.

Fire in Factory At Salmon Arm

SALMON ARM, B.C. (CP)—Damage estimated at $1,000 was caused by fire which broke out in the P. A. Ruth Cone factory here Wednesday night.

Most of the stock in the factory, which extracts seeds from fir-cones and exports them, was saved. Several buildings close to the burning factory were menaced, but absence of wind prevented the flames from spreading.

Plan Works If Revenue Found

Vancouver's 1938 Council Hears Mayor G. C. Miller at Its First Meeting.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor George C. Miller in his address to the inaugural meeting of the 1938 Vancouver city council Wednesday outlined a civic programme for the coming year of public works, industrial, airport and tourist development and traffic safety, but added that future civic undertakings were predicated on a "drastic" readjustment of municipal revenue sources and service responsibilities.

"There is no use in making vague promises when we know the city's finances are in no position to undertake the work," the mayor said. "Our borrowing power has been exhausted in carrying out minimum needs of a modern community."

Skier Dies On Vancouver Peak

Ben Harstad Hits Stump While Practicing Jumping On Hollyburn Ridge

NORTH VANCOUVER (CP)—Ben Harstad, 25-year-old skier, was fatally injured on nearby Hollyburn Ridge Wednesday when he lost control while practicing a jump and crashed into a stump. His neck was broken.

Spectators telephoned for an ambulance and began carrying Harstad down the mountain on an improvised stretcher, but he died before they reached the end of the trail where the ambulance waited.

The skier, believed to have come here from Norway about three years ago and who made his home on the ridge in the North Shore mountains, had just started his glide down the jumping trestle when he lost control and plunged on a stump below.

He was practicing for a ski tournament when the accident occurred.

Return Checks To Aid Others

Suggest Money Be Given to Others When Own Circumstances Improve

Consideration for others less fortunate than themselves were shown by a number of recipients of cheques from the Christmas Bureau Fund, it was learned this morning from officials.

Twelve heads of families who were included in the benefit list, and whose circumstances improved during the Christmas season, returned their cheques with thanks and suggested they be handed to families who were in greater need of help.

Alderman W. H. Davies, chairman of the campaign committee, said it was one of the finest gestures he has ever seen. "It shows a commendable feeling for the less-fortunate other fellow," he said.

Scores of letters from the 800 families who benefited from the campaign have been pouring in at the bureau headquarters, expressing sincere appreciation.

An illustration of the appreciation felt by parents is contained in the following letter from a mother of a large family: "I am writing to thank you ever so much for the $10 I received through your campaign. It came at a very opportune time and enabled me to buy a few little extras for my children. It certainly made a brighter Christmas for us. I do not know how to thank you, but may God bless you for your good work."

According to a statement issued this morning by T. J. Goodlake, treasurer, more than $2,000 was issued in cheques to needy families to aid them through the Yule season. The amounts varied according to the size of families.

Mental Hospitals Cost $1,161,352

Increase Shown in 1937; 783 Patients Admitted

British Columbia mental hospitals gross operating cost in 1937 was $1,161,352, G. S. McGowan, bursar, stated today in an annual report to Hon. George M. Weir, provincial secretary. This was an increase of $99,936 over 1936 and was due chiefly to increased staff salaries, increased cost of commodities and purchase of special equipment, the report said.

Dr. A. L. Crease, general superintendent of the institutions, reported the average annual increase of mentally abnormal patients in the past 40 years was 117. Dr. Crease advocated a long range programme of building and improvements to remedy, what he termed, overcrowded conditions.

The report said that 783 patients were admitted in 1937. A revenue of $697,433 was reported in the past year. This was made up of $535,391 from collections and payments by municipalities, $151,106 from goods produced at the colony farm and used by other institutions and $10,336 from the sale of goods outside the institutions.

Island Mayors Seek Return

ALBERNI—Mayor Vincent Tingey has announced he will stand for re-election later this month. So far no one has come out to oppose him.

There will be five vacancies to fill on the council. Aldermen T. M. Patterson, G. N. Richardson and J. W. Pakenham have completed their third terms. Alderman Randerson retired last June and Alderman E. E. Frost died recently. That leaves Alderman Louis Howe as the only member of the council with an unexpired term.

PORT ALBERNI—Mayor W. C. Hamilton has announced he will run again for office January 13. Nominations will close next Monday. Rumor says ex-Alderman A. T. Turner may oppose the mayor.

There will be an election, however, for three vacancies on the council. Aldermen Crossland, Woodford and Humphries will each seek further terms and A. Plant has announced he will leave the school board to run for a seat on the council.

Dr. J. C. Thomas and W. A. Ackland, in addition to Mr. Plant, will retire from the school board. Ratepayers, in any case, will vote on the plebiscite for construction of a cement sidewalk between the two towns, from Roger Creek Bridge to the intersection of Third and Redford.

Wandering Ends With Sentence

Man Who Escaped Goes From B.C. and Will Serve Term in Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP)—"British Columbia" air evidently makes them repentant.

So said Magistrate A. O. Campbell Wednesday in passing sentence on Leslie Lavery, who came here from British Columbia to give himself up to authorities.

Lavery, who told police he was tired of fleeing from a two-month jail term, wound up 15 years of wandering when he was sent back to jail for three months, the penalty for escaping from custody.

He was serving a two-month term for the petty thefts when he fled from jail May 16, 1922. He wandered over western Canada and the United States, always a step ahead of the law. But last Tuesday night he became weary, entered Royal Canadian Mounted Police headquarters and surrendered.

"I want to go back to jail and get it all over," he told the officer in charge. "I'm tired of wandering all over the country for the sake of a two-month jail term."

He caught the police guessing. They had "forgotten" him, but after two hours of being located his record.

Lavery told police he had spent most of his wanderings in Seattle, but was deported to Vancouver by United States authorities a short time ago.

He told his story before Magistrate Campbell yesterday. He was treated leniently by the magistrate, who inflicted the three-month sentence to run concurrently with his original sentence.

As to British Columbia air making them repentant, an R.C.M.P. officer said: "Lavery is the second man in the last couple of weeks to give himself up."

OTTAWA (CP)—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday that Canadian wheat in store the week ended December 31 decreased 1,461,277 bushels from the level of the previous week, and was 55,915,557 less than a year before. The amount in store was reported as 57,377,667 bushels.

In the United States there were 4,704,000 bushels, a net decrease of 130,000 from the previous week, compared with 27,775,386 a year before. United States wheat in Canada totaled 1,858,276 bushels compared with none a year before.

Carpenters May Seek Wage Board

The carpenters' union in Victoria may be the first union to apply for a board of conciliation under the new provincial Trades Union Act, Charles Chivers, union officer, told the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council at its meeting last night.

Mr. Chivers said the union was considering asking for a board hearing early in March for a discussion of wages. The union, he said, would probably seek an increase in the hourly rate from 70 to 90 cents, with a 40-hour week.

The meeting also discussed the local motion picture business, and decided to ask P. M. Draper, president of the Canadian Trades Congress to join with other organizations in opposing any move by the British government to disqualify Canadian pictures from rating as British productions under the quota regulations.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today

JANUARY 6, 1913 (From The Times Files)

Trotting out a galaxy of hockey stars that cannot be equalled by any other team on the continent, manager Lester Patrick is quite certain of the Coast League honors resting in Victoria this winter. The Senators will meet New Westminster at the local arena on Thursday night.

Negotiations have been made for the sale of the yacht Gunkild to the Dominion Government for use in hydrographical survey. The owners, W. H. Price and L. Camusa, are preparing to vacate the vessel, which is now lying in James Bay, and turn her over to the government.

Early this morning snow began to fall all over the province, and by 9 this morning about an inch had fallen in Victoria.

This afternoon at a special meeting of the directors of the local Y.M.C.A., it was decided to ask Fred Witham, general secretary of the association at Walla Walla, to fill the vacancy of secretary here, made by the resignation of E. W. Thomason.

Says Visitors Spoil Island

Highways Adequate, No Need for Much Speed, Says Californian in Reply

Vancouver Island highways are adequate and there is no need for excessive speed, is the comment of a San Francisco resident who visited the island last summer and who has answered one of the Publicity Bureau's questionnaires.

"Please don't improve the highways—they are quite adequate and it is a distinct pleasure to be confined to a speed limit of 35 miles per hour. One of the most charming features of Vancouver Island and its inhabitants is the friendly, noncommercial attitude," the tourist says.

"Your people seem to be primarily interested in taking care of the tourist—the profit angle is secondary," he continues. "Americans have spoiled some of the shops in Victoria. Please don't allow Americans to spoil your island. Let's not have any hot dog stands, or cocktail bars or highway sign boards or fast driving, or the pure commercial attitude."

"I am coming back to Vancouver Island and might even spend a portion of each year there and I don't want my own countrymen to spoil it for me. Just be yourselves. I went to Vancouver Island for the lakes and the woods and the perfect quiet life."

One Californian said: "We enjoyed a cricket game and music and a band concert in Beacon Hill Park and the beautiful voice of Miss Sheila Conway."

Another said: "We were made to feel welcome on arrival and noticed this atmosphere all the time and carried away a warm feeling in our hearts for our brother neighbors. Please stay English; don't change your customs and be like us. We like your manners; ours are rude."

No Secession By Alberta, Says M.P.

WINNIPEG (CP)—R. A. Pelletier, Social Credit member of the House of Commons for Peace River, declared as he passed through Winnipeg Wednesday en route to Ottawa that there was "no danger of Alberta seceding" from the Dominion.

"The Aberhart government is determined to use legal means to achieve its purpose," he said. "If Premier Aberhart resigned there would be other Social Credit leaders capable of taking his place."

Mr. Pelletier declared the A.I.C. "Build B.C. Payroll"

The judges' decision on the contest letters will probably be announced Saturday. The task has been difficult because of the large number of letters and the large number that are so good. For this reason the decision is not yet completed.

Man Who Escaped Goes From B.C. and Will Serve Term in Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP)—"British Columbia" air evidently makes them repentant.

So said Magistrate A. O. Campbell Wednesday in passing sentence on Leslie Lavery, who came here from British Columbia to give himself up to authorities.

Lavery, who told police he was tired of fleeing from a two-month jail term, wound up 15 years of wandering when he was sent back to jail for three months, the penalty for escaping from custody.

A Wise Experiment

THE PEOPLE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA generally will applaud the practical personal interest which Attorney-General Wismer is manifesting in the Pattullo government's trial of the Borstal system of dealing with young offenders against the law. The province's first experiment of this kind is being carried out with a score or so of young fellows on the 33-acre farm at Burnaby formerly occupied by the Home for the Friendless. There these youths in their teens have been set to work on the construction of buildings intended to form the nucleus of the organization upon which Mr. Wismer has set his mind. They have been on the job for several weeks without restraint of any kind; they are "on their honor" and not one of them has shown the slightest intention of violating the trust reposed in him. The success of the test so far is its ample justification and no doubt will encourage the Attorney-General to extend this aspect of prison administration as circumstances appear to require.

The Borstal system represents one of those periodical prison reforms which followed publication in the latter part of the 18th century of a personal report which John Howard gave to the people of Britain after exhaustive investigations—often made in the face of almost insurmountable obstacles—into conditions in British penal institutions and prison administration in various cities of continental Europe. It is a far cry to those days; but important changes were brought about at that time. Progressive alterations of method were continued during the years. It was not, however, until after the commotion caused in the minds of the people by Charles Reade's "It Is Never Too Late To Mend" a century afterward that real, practical reform became a pressing public question and brooked of no delay in dealing with it. The last 50 years have seen changes of a revolutionary character, and prison reform in one way or another is an issue which crops up from time to time in British parliamentary debates.

Of all the changes which have taken place since the days of John Howard—Victoria boasts of an energetic branch of the John Howard Society—that which produced the Borstal system is one of the most vital. It offers hope to young offenders against the law. It is reformatory and disciplinary instead of being brutal and condemnatory. The Pattullo government has followed the right course in adopting it. Attorney-General Wismer ought to be assured of the co-operation and assistance of the general public in his efforts to make its operation in British Columbia as successful as it has been elsewhere.

Mr. Connell's Retirement

FOR TEN YEARS THE VICTORIA PUBLIC Library and the reading public generally have had the advantage of the sound literary judgment and counsel of Rev. Robert Connell serving as a member of the Library Board. Because of the outstanding services he has rendered the community in this way, we feel it a misfortune that Mr. Connell has been compelled to announce his inability, owing to the state of his health, to accept another term on the board.

Besides being one of the "best read" men in Victoria, Mr. Connell is esteemed for the comprehensiveness of his views, tastes and sympathies. His mental outlook and experience have combined to render his opinions of special value to an institution faced with the problem of catering to widely varied and at the same time specialized demands of the public.

There will be general agreement with the expression of regret over Mr. Connell's retirement voiced by Mayor McGavin in his 1938 inaugural address. Mr. Connell may be assured that the city's formal letter of appreciation to be sent him for public services rendered will be accompanied by a feeling of highest regard on the part of the citizens.

An Admiral's "Brimstone"

JAPANESE ADMIRAL NOBUMASA SUETSUGU has told the world that Japan will stop British aid to China even if it takes a war to do so. He says necessity will provide the means with which to carry out his threat, that the trading interests of the whites will have to be "erased under the sun of Japan's mission," and that Japan's economic strength is greater than the Chinese and whites imagine. Then we get the following on the 1938 model of "The Yellow Peril":

"The end of the white hegemony will truly usher in the era of justice and humanity of which the Europeans and the Americans constantly speak.

"I am not afraid to insist on this point. If need be, I will insist upon it before the whole world. The white yoke on the yellow race must disappear.

"Naturally the rapid realization of liberation will bring a general conflagration."

The foregoing from an interview in a political magazine, The Review Kaizo, can be accepted as evidence that the powers that be in Tokyo are fully aware of how necessary it is to keep the Japanese masses in a frame of mind that will tend to divert them from a too close study of a serious economic state at home and a growing hostile opinion abroad.

Goulding Wilson

THE TRAGICALLY SUDDEN DEATH yesterday afternoon of Mr. H. Goulding Wilson cast a gloom over the community and reminded us again that the Grim Reaper continues to exact his toll from the ranks of Victoria's outstanding citizens. He lived practically all his life in this city; as he passes on he leaves his mark, indelibly stamped on the business and public life of the whole district.

Goulding Wilson, as he was known among his intimate friends—and they were legion—was a man of the highest integrity, possessed of many sterling qualities of both heart and mind. In his younger days he was a keen and accomplished sportsman; in recent years his chief diversion in the out-of-doors was on the golf links.

A man of warm and generous sympathies, Mr. Wilson found scope for his philanthropic bent in the Queen Alexandra Solarium, on whose board of directors he served without stint—and none will mourn him more sincerely than the little patients in that institution.

As is well known, Mr. Wilson came of a family which has been closely associated with the development and progress of Victoria since the city's incorporation. His death, therefore, will be the more keenly felt by his contemporaries. To his widow and the members of his family The Times extends its sympathy in the irreparable loss which they have sustained.

The Van Zeeland Report

IN THE ABSENCE OF RT. HON. ANTHONY EDEN, Britain's Foreign Secretary, who is in the south of France on holiday, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain will take charge of the business of his young colleague's office. We are told that while occupying the dual position the Premier will concentrate a goodly part of his attention on efforts to lower the barriers to international trade. M. Paul van Zeeland, former Prime Minister of Belgium, is in London today and is expected to confer with Mr. Chamberlain tomorrow.

It will be recalled that M. van Zeeland was requested by the governments of Great Britain and France some months ago to investigate the dams blocking international trade and submit a brief for general discussion. It is presumed that he has prepared his report and that it will be placed in Premier Chamberlain's hands when the two statesmen meet tomorrow. Forecasts of the contents of the document, by the way, indicate that it contains ways and means of meeting Germany's demands for raw materials and proposals for the speeding up of business between the nations of the world.

Great Britain, of course, is facing the prospect of an economic slump—already on the way if the increase of unemployment be any criterion—and is anxious to take almost any measure to forestall it. Restoration of international relations to something approaching a normal basis is an urgent essential if progress toward the main objective of the Prime Minister is to be made. The cornerstone of Britain's foreign policy is the maintenance of peace, which naturally outlaws the rival ideologies of Fascism and Communism. The British government has followed the middle course, although some of the policies it has pursued in recent months in the realm of international politics have left considerable cause for alarm.

Until the contents of the Van Zeeland report on tariff barriers has been made public, it is impossible to learn what form subsequent discussions will take. It is generally understood, however, that the provisions of the new Anglo-American trade treaty are likely to be published within the next few weeks. In them Canada, as well as Britain, is especially interested.

Notes

The Chinese seem to be about the only people who do not seem scared of the Japanese.

If palmists used a tape measure, they would find usually that a man's waistline increases as his life-line decreases.

We are not fit for freedom and will not have it long, unless we fight for the rights of those who disagree with us.

Is it not strange that near-sighted Japanese fliers never make a mistake and bomb a ship flying the Japanese flag?

Might does not make right, but history proves it the only thing that gives a neutral any rights.

If future archaeologists dig up some of our magazines, they will doubtless wonder why it was necessary to advertise such pretty girls.

SOVIET POLE PIONEERS

THOSE FOUR RUSSIAN SCIENTISTS who took up their posts on an ice floe at the North Pole last May and were told to stay there until they were called for have done a good deal of traveling just by sitting still. The latest messages from their floating base show that they have drifted 745 miles, and are now off the northeast coast of Greenland, nearly eight degrees of latitude from the pole.

If they have done nothing else, they have at least reversed one of the traditions of polar exploration. The old-timers went to the pole, or as close to it as they could get, by slow and painful stages; the Russians went there in a hurry, but have taken longer getting back than any other group on record.

While they will undoubtedly bring back much scientific data on ocean currents, water temperatures, and so on, it is probably that one thing by which the public will remember them—that they flew to the pole and then drifted away on an ice cake.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHINSON

END OF LEGS

IT IS ANNOUNCED from Hollywood that Miss Dietrich is out of work. Her last six pictures have flopped and the people who hire her at high wages have decided they can't afford to keep her any more. So the most beautiful legs in the world are going out of circulation.

Various technical explanations are given for the end of this great career. But the real reason, according to the experts, is that the era which Miss Dietrich created, the era of glamour, has passed. The old illusion which Miss Dietrich maintained for so long, the illusion that there was something glorious and romantic in sin, has broken down. The wooden-faced style of acting, when a girl who was probably thinking of her next meal was supposed to look as if her soul was wandering in regions that the poor yokels but in the middle-west could never know, is in the discard.

The public has got tired of such yearnings and rather bored with sin. The American people have been so crammed with glamour that they are sick of it, like too much sweet cake. The yokels suspect there is more in life than lingerie. So Hollywood is going in for robust comedy with plenty of slapstick and custard pie and heroines spanked by manly heroes where it will do the most good.

It is sad to know that another era is over, that one has lived through still another age. It makes you feel rather old when you realize that you are older than Miss Dietrich and she belongs to a generation already past. Still, I am rather glad the glamour and yearning are over. I could never get into the spirit of it somehow. Whenever Miss Dietrich and the lesser in flimsy lingerie yearners looked blankly at the camera, to me it was always just a girl looking blank in her underclothes.

RISEING TIDE

THE OXFORD GROUP, to whose inner meanings I am a complete stranger, has lately published a very remarkable picture magazine called Rising Tide, done in the photographic style of Life, and devoted to the progress of the movement all over the world. The pictures are beautiful and the journal in several languages will undoubtedly reach millions of people.

The rising tide is supposed to be the Oxford movement welling up in the world. I wonder if the rising tide in the world is the Oxford movement or something much less agreeable. At the moment, the more visible rising tides are fascism and communism, violence and mass murder. It would be gratifying to believe, if you could, that some other tide also was rising. The Oxford Group's publication is well planned to make you believe that there is.

Any movement which is basically decent and of goodwill deserves everyone's sympathy in these mad times. I find it hard to endure people who are so religious that they condemn the Oxford Group because it doesn't belong to their particularism. On the other hand, some of the Oxford Group seem likely to fall into this same excess of enthusiasm. One thing the Oxford Group believes in is obviously true and not realized frequently enough. It believes that the only way you can reform society is through the individual; that all remedies applied from the top, too far in advance of the average intelligence and the average virtue, are bound to fail.

This, of course, is the original theory of democracy, frequently disregarded nowadays. And when it is disregarded you have to go in for blood purges as in Russia, to try to bring your population up to the intelligence and virtue of the purgers, or you have to appoint shirt inspectors as in Germany to see that the public doesn't wear shirt tails an inch too long and thus disrupt the whole German economy.

On the other hand, too many of our politicians lag far behind the public intelligence and virtue and keep postponing reforms so long that intelligent people grow desperate. That is where fascism breeds.

TOO LONG

AN EMINENT American scientist, Mr. W. M. Malisoff, has written a book to prove that science can make us live forever. It is only a matter of protoplasm and hormones and the chemistry of the body, he says, and science will learn to understand it after a while.

This is going to make the government of the world still more difficult. Imagine a population that lives forever, never changing, no new faces coming in, no old ones going out! Imagine how you'd feel if you knew that day after day, year in and year out, forever, you had to walk the same streets, doing the same things, seeing the same people! Imagine reading the same sort of paper every day about the same Mussolini, the same Hitler, the same Heppburn, this same weary column and all the characters of the comic strips, grown old and ugly, but refusing to die!

Just imagine looking at the Legislature open every year into eternity (which some of us have practically done already) and the City Council refunding and refunding and cutting down trees and erecting monuments century after century. Just imagine listening to Mr. Gable and Mr. Benny and Mr. McCarthy without any hope of release!

Scientists like Mr. Malisoff have been fooled by the universal horror of extinction into the belief that people want to keep on living. When they have found out a way to make this possible, they will probably be surprised to find that hardly anyone is interested. Everyone will prefer to die.

Milk of Kindness

By ART STOTT

THAT "milk of kindness" phrase Shakespeare used so effectively in a play three centuries ago finds a new and literal application in Victoria today.

There is nothing metaphorical about it. A supply of milk, provided by human kindness, flows in a generous stream into the mouths of needy school children of this city five days a week, and has flowed for them for the last 18 years.

Long before the last depression took some of the "honey" from existence in this land flowing with milk and the like, those interested in the physical welfare of children found a deep need for greater nutrition for little tots of families not in the best of circumstances. In the schoolroom the lack was particularly apparent.

To overcome it, in part at least, the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter I.O.O.F. launched a successful campaign in 1919 to provide such children with milk. At the end of last year the chapter had raised and spent a little over $35,000 for that purpose.

"Milk," says Dr. Richard Felton, city medical health officer, "is the most nearly perfect food children can be given. It contains all those necessary elements that go to make young bodies strong. Victoria enjoys an exceptionally high standard in its milk supply. And though it would be foolish to suggest that the supply of milk given to those in straitened circumstances is responsible for the generally good health of our school children, there is no doubt but that it has helped."

The chapter adopts the recommendation of the school nurse in its present method of distributing the health-giving fluid to children who need it. Half-pint bottles are allocated to youngsters, mainly those of primary grades, shortly before recess, and are emptied as speedily as they may be without injurious affects to the tots. At present the list of recipients numbers 239. And those little people are helped with the nutritious drink along the road to mental alertness and physical welfare each day throughout the school week.

It is a splendid work the chapter carries on a splendid cause for which those who make donations, contribute a splendid and literal example of "the milk of human kindness."

MAILMAN FINED

To the Editor:—Several letters have appeared dealing with unfair and rather ridiculous fines in our local courts, for offences that did not warrant any punishment at all. Another one has just come in, my notice which I think is in the same category. It appears that the mailman who collects the mail from mail-boxes in the city and vicinity was fined $5 for not having his driving license with him.

I think it was rather uncalled for and unnecessary. Here is a man who went out in all that terrible weather—snow, rain, slush and wind—to collect the mail to be delivered for Christmas. He even hired an extra trailer to cope with the excessive load and paid for it himself. He arrived at the Post Office with his load right on time, but very unfortunately, wet through, which meant a change of clothes, and that is where he overlooked slipping his driver's license in his pocket. This man goes out on every day of the year, Sundays, holidays, and in all weather, all in the service for the public. The Postal Department makes no extra allowances for any emergency. When he is doing his utmost under such trying conditions it does seem somewhat hard treatment to fine him $5 for such a trivial oversight at the festive season.

DRAMATIZING INDUSTRY

From The B.C. Financial News
Movie dramatization of great corporations is the order of the day, following upon the success of films dealing with Lloyds of London and the House of Rothschilds.

Latest effort is the picturization of the history of Wells, Fargo & Co. into whose colorful record is woven the history of the western United States.

Where could one find a more inspiring story than the history of the C.P.R.? So much of the story was left untold in the British production, "The Great Barrier," that the field for a mighty drama still remains unexplored. Then there is the epic of the Hudson's Bay Company, spanning centuries. Little of fiction would have to be introduced to make the filmed histories of these companies live drama.

ASKS ABOUT DOCTORS

To the Editor:—In a recent letter, Miss Dora Kitto mentioned three eminent medical men who are, or were, strongly opposed to vivisection. The two first were, I think, Granville Bantock and Lawson Tait. I am familiar with Lawson Tait's reputation as a surgeon—in fact, his portrait as a robust elderly gentleman forms the frontispiece of my edition of "The Family Physician," bought 40 years ago.

I wonder if Miss Kitto would supply a little information about the first-mentioned doctor, Granville Bantock?

SEEK BETTER PLAYGROUNDS

New School Board More in Favor of Sports Fields Than Gardens

Victoria's 1938 school board is more interested in improving playing field facilities than in increasing its landscape gardens, according to an expression of opinion voiced at the inaugural meeting last night.

Trustee Walter Staneland voiced that sentiment when the board heard a letter from W. H. Warren, city parks superintendent, stating he had on hand several shrubs and trees for decorative purposes. The letter was referred to the building and grounds committee for consideration with the suggestion, advanced by Trustee John Wallace, that if the shrubs could be used to advantage, planted and kept at no cost to the board, they should be used.

Trustee Staneland referred to the pressing needs for playground improvement at South Park, Sir James Douglas, Burnside and other schools.

Trustee R. H. Green expressed accord with the other speakers. A report from the city wiring inspector, calling attention to need for improvement in the wiring at Margaret Jenkins School, was referred to the building and grounds committee, while one from Brown Bros. regarding public liability insurance was turned over to the finance committee. A request from the Palm Dairies, for consideration of that concern when the contract for the High School cafeteria was to be renewed, was referred to the cafeteria committee.

PURCHASE MUSIC

Purchase of $250 worth of musical supplies was authorized on the recommendation of the musical supervisor, and a letter from the Victoria Hard of Hearing Club, thanking the board for its Monday night class, was received and filed.

Purchase of gymnasium mats from June Bros. at a cost of $154, was approved, and the secretary was instructed to call for tenders for other gym equipment.

A motion was introduced by Trustee Staneland to alter the regular meeting date of the board to the third Monday in every month. It will be given further consideration at the next session of the trustees.

Comparative school enrolment figures presented to the school board showed last month 74 below the total of 4,992 recorded for December, 1936.

School Budget To Be Higher

Chairman Percy George Indicates Increase in Expenditure Needed

"We should not sacrifice our educational efficiency on the altar of economy," Trustee Percy E. George told the city school board last night, following this election as chairman of that board at its opening meeting for 1938.

His remarks followed an outline of the needs for greater expenditure on school buildings, equipment and supplies this year. He did not wish to give the impression he favored careless spending, he stated, but added it was urgently necessary to carry on certain work in repairs and improvements and imperative to secure certain supplies to meet the needs of the new course of study.

Trustee George was named chairman on the board's unanimous vote. In supporting his nomination, made by Trustee Walter Staneland, Trustee W. P. Marchant declared the board fortunate in securing one of Trustee George's experience for the post. He was, however, in favor of rotating the chairmanship in order to incorporate new blood in the direction of its affairs, he added.

board and concurred with the opinion put forward by Trustee Marchant. He reviewed some of the difficulties facing the board, noting its budget had been cut $82,000 in the last seven years, from $354,000 in 1930 to $472,000 last year.

The reductions of the previous seven years had impoverished the school service, left the schools ill supplied and in a position where a continuation of the low budget would work a very definite hardship on the educational system, he said.

He listed among the pressing needs for schools at present a new boiler for the junior high school, the overhaul and possible renewal of the fire alarm system, a covered walk between the junior high school buildings, improved lighting equipment, auditorium facilities for Burnside, roofing and metalwork on other buildings and extensive supplies, costing between $600 and $700 for the junior highs. Library additions, industrial arts and other supplies were urgently required to meet the needs of the new course of study, he added.

FAVORS RESTORATION

On the teachers' salary question he declared himself favorable to restoration of 5 per cent. The staffs were second to none in the province, he said, making special mention of the excellent judgment shown by George H. Deane, municipal inspector, in his selection of personnel.

He urged the new trustees to be educationally minded, stating that anyone who was not could not understand the difficulties and needs of school work.

Closing, he expressed the hope the board would continue with strength of purpose, co-operation, and harmony throughout the year.

Later in the meeting, Trustee Staneland was named chairman of the building and grounds committee, Trustee Marchant chairman of the finance committee, and Trustee John Wallace chairman of the educational committee.

Each group includes all members of the board.

Trustees Staneland and Mrs. A. S. Christie were appointed to care for the High School cafeteria, Robert H. Green and Frank G. Mulliner for the night school, and Mrs. Christie was requested to act as board delegate in overseeing the domestic science courses, particularly at the High School.

FOREST FIRE LOSS IS LOW

B.C. Had Best Season in 20 Years, Government Summary Shows

Losses from forest fires in British Columbia last year were $159,937, the lowest in 20 years. They were more than 80 per cent lower than the 1936 damage which totaled $1,175,662.

The figures were given in a summary of fire losses made public today by Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands.

The provincial forest branch made a big saving on its bill for fire-fighting, its costs dropping from $130,291 to $28,133. At the same time the cost to private logging operators was down from $34,651 to $23,754.

The loss in merchantable timber was 12,555,000 board feet over 3,031 acres, worth $12,274 stumpage. Damage to immature timber was $13,108, to poorly-stocked areas $2,285 to noncommercial areas $7,580, to cut forest products $39,003, to buildings $30,211, to railway, mill and logging equipment $30,260.

In an analysis of causes of fire, the branch attributes 42.8 per cent to campers, travelers and smokers. Another 22.1 per cent were due to lightning, 10.8 per cent to brush burning and 6.6 per cent to railway operation. Other minor causes were industrial operators 4.2 per cent and incendiary 1.7 per cent.

Cancer Deaths Climb Steadily

Rate in B.C. Doubled in 14 Years, New Analysis Reveals

The rate of deaths due to cancer in British Columbia is steadily climbing and has almost doubled in 14 years, according to statistics compiled by H. B. French and J. D. B. Scott of the provincial vital statistics branch and made public here today.

In an analysis of the years 1921-35 inclusive, the report shows an increase from 398, to 693 in the number of cancer deaths, and from .74 per 1,000 of population to 1.21 in the cancer death rate. In the same period the ratio of cancer deaths to all deaths has increased from 8.50 per cent to 13.02 per cent.

In a brief summary of a mass of charts and statistics, the report says:

"It may be noted that the actual number of cancer deaths has more than doubled for the period 1921 to 1935. Also, that cancer deaths have increased at a higher rate than the population increase or the increase of all deaths. Furthermore, the cancer percentage of all deaths is much higher for females than males, with a consistent upward trend for both. Lastly, the cancer deaths are most frequent from the ages 40 to 49 years upwards, with the high peak at 60 to 69 years for males and 50 to 59 years for females."

Organization of a three-day festive period for the May 24 celebrations is suggested by J. C. North in a communication received today at the City Hall, Mr.

North proposes the arrangements for the event be turned over to a citizens' committee.

THOMPSON—PETERSON

A quiet wedding took place in Holy Trinity Church, White Rock, B.C., on December 27, where, in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends, Rev. H. U. Dewald united in marriage Constance Mabel, the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Peterson and Mr. Charles Lindsay Thompson of Victoria, only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Thompson of White Rock.

The bride, who was unattended, was given in marriage by her father, and wore a gown of rust velvet with veiled hat of matching material. Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was held at the home of the bride's parents, Royal Avenue, where Mrs. Peterson, gowned in black velvet and wearing a corsage of red rosebuds, and Mrs. Thompson in figured brown silk, with a bouquet of gardenias and yellow rosebuds, assisted in receiving.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Thompson left for Seattle, the bride wearing an ensemble of green wool with hat in suite, and green accessories, her dress topped with a lapin coat. They are making their home in Victoria.

Toast New Year in Milk

A new year without any hangovers from 1937 "whoopie" seems to be what Mary Dee, the blonde stand-in who took the role of the late Jean Harlow in the concluding scenes of the platinum blonde's last picture, and Reed Lawton, society baritone, had in mind as they clink glasses of milk in a New York night club.

Princesses Hear Grey Owl

Noted Indian Gave Lecture At Buckingham Palace

LONDON—Part of a carefully prepared educational scheme which Queen Mary has arranged for Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret was a lecture given to them at Buckingham Palace last month by Grey Owl, well-known Indian author and protector of wild animals.

The little Princesses listened shining-eyed as Grey Owl told them about the animals that he loves and showed them films of wild life in the woods of northern Ontario, where he makes his home.

Tall, alert, his lank black hair braided to his shoulders, Grey Owl wore—as he always does when he lectures—his simple tunic of soft leather and his Indian moccasins.

Grey Owl, representing as he does the spirit of Canadian Indian life, was chosen by Queen Mary to tell the little Princesses something of the lore of his people and the fascinating habits of the beaver and other native animals of Canada.

In addition to Queen Mary, Queen Elizabeth and her parents, the Earl and Countess of Strathmore, were in attendance.

Before leaving England for his Ontario home on December 20, Grey Owl broadcast the talk he gave at Buckingham Palace.

T. Atkinson and R. Betts of Victoria; 20 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Taylor and baby son of Courtenay, Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Swanson, Frank and Beatrice of Winnipeg and Mrs. L. W. Clanton of Gardena, Calif.

At the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. F. M. Bryant, Linden Avenue, Miss Mary Lou Bryant was hostess this afternoon to a large number of her young friends at a delightful tea party. Students Return From Conference

Three Victoria College students, Renee Watson, Bruce Mickleburgh and Charles Bruce, returned home yesterday from a conference of young men and women from Canadian universities held in Winnipeg, December 27 to 31.

The conference, attended by 350 students from all parts of the Dominion, filled a practical need, they said.

One of the principal results of the meeting was a recommendation for the formation of local discussion groups among students.

1,700 Descendants From Six Wives

LOS ANGELES — Eight children and 30 grandchildren participated in the reception here given by one of the children, D. Chase Rich, prominent Beverly Hills attorney, to their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Rich, formerly of Salt Lake City, on their 55th wedding anniversary.

Mr. Rich is the son of General Charles C. Rich, one of the original 12 apostles of the Latter Day Saints, who was first mayor of the Salt Lake City colony. The general had six wives and 50 children, and has more than 1,700 descendants. General Rich laid out the town of San Bernardino about 1850, paying $77,500 for the original 55,000-acre ranch, after bringing the original Mormon colony to the southland, and he served as the first mayor.

Cinderella Has New Role

NEW YORK—The secret of a "modern Cinderella" came out yesterday.

The scene: A suite in a fashionable mid-town hotel.

Enter: Helga, pretty, blue-eyed chambermaid.

With deft touches, she quickly made the bed and cleaned the rug, and was dusting the furniture when the room guest returned.

Helga started to curtsy and murmur an excuse. Instead—"Oh!" she choked, crimsoning violently. "Oh!"

She was, she realized, caught red-handed. For the occupant was a prominent engineer with whom she had dined the night before—without revealing her menial role in the hotel's exclusive supper-dance room.

Helga had to tell him, then. Yes, she assured him, she's a chambermaid, all right. . . . A dozen beds a day . . . changing towels . . . fetching linen . . . listening to guests' complaints.

But Helga, in telling him, could not keep a straight face. And then it came out—

F—chambermaid job is the first step in studying for a career as a hotel director.

And at night, when the day's drudgery is done, "Helga the chambermaid" becomes Miss Helga Gunderson, 22, of Oslo, Norway, daughter of a wealthy engineer, who helped design the Detroit River tunnel—and retires to a costly suite in the same hotel.

Hollywood Studio Besieged By Expectant Mothers

HOLLYWOOD, Cal. (AP)—Thirty-one prospective mothers had applied to a motion picture studio here today for a film part for their unborn babies.

The studio announced recently it would need an infant, but a few days old for the part of the French Dauphin, Louis Charles, in its forthcoming picture, "Marie Antoinette," in which Norma Shearer plays the title role.

Today it had applications from prospective mothers in Quebec City, New York, Chicago, Youngstown, Ohio, Phoenix, Ariz., and Seattle.

The Quebec applicant submitted a genealogy of her expected baby showing its French ancestry back to the days of the ill-fated queen, the studio said, and guaranteed that it would be a boy.

SONJA HENIE IS DIPLOMAT

Asks What Lilt and Swing Is in Reply to Mirabel Vinson's Criticism

DETROIT—Blond and dimpled Sonja Henie just turned on the full voltage of her justly famed dimples today when asked to comment on Mirabel Vinson's criticism of her skating as "too formalized." Miss Vinson, North American amateur figure skating champion, said Sonja lacked lilt and swing.

"What is lilt and swing?" asked Norway's gift to Hollywood, "Miss Vinson," she added innocently, "was one of my competitors at the last Olympics. She placed eighth."

Miss Henie, performing in her ice ballet here, lingered to add a bit of advice to those trying to reduce. Just skate away the excess weight, she says. That's the way she has kept her weight down since going into pictures.

At the end of the week Miss Henie is to fly to Washington to receive a knighthood of the Order of St. Olaf, recently conferred upon her by a grateful country.

Sonja, according to her mother, Mrs. Selma Henie, is the youngest person to receive the decoration.

Mr. Tyson is well known here as a wrestler and amateur cyclist. He competed in the last Canadian wrestling trials in the try-outs for the Canadian team to compete at the Empire Games in Australia.

Slight Temblor Recorded Here

Light sleepers who could not understand why they woke up early this morning were probably disturbed by a slight earthquake, according to information received from the Dominion Meteorological Observatory here.

The temblor which was declared to be quite insignificant began at 10 minutes and 54 seconds past 5. W. A. Thorn, director of the observatory, calculated that the centre of the disturbance was within 100 miles radius.

Seattle felt the earthquake more severely and an Associated Press dispatch from that city quoted Professor Howard Coombs of the University of Washington Seismograph as saying that it was a local quake "the kind we get in Seattle an average of once a year and not alarming at all."

The tremor appears to have been more severe in the Sound City lasting about half a minute and rattling dishes in western suburban homes.

EXPECTS GOOD TOURIST YEAR

W. M. Neal, C.P.R. Vice-president, Thinks 1938 Business Will Be Brisk

"Although conditions seem a little unsettled at present, we have no reason to believe the coming tourist season will be below that of last year," said W. M. Neal, vice-president of Canadian Pacific western lines, who reached Victoria this morning from his headquarters in Winnipeg.

Mr. Neal said his company was now making plans for the 1938 tourist movement. New equipment was being planned for western lines, he said, and the company was going ahead with the air-conditioning of its transcontinental trains.

In Victoria Mr. Neal will confer with Capt. R. W. McMurray, R.N.R., manager of the B.C. Coast service and other C.P.R. officials.

HOW TO OVERCOME ITCHING PILES

If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose, use of a simple remedy, a package of Hemorrhoid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemorrhoid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use, may be had at such a reasonable cost.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"
FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1938

After the early morning hours today adverse planetary aspects rule, according to astrology. The configuration appears to favor those who hold positions of power, military or civic, industrial or political. Deceit and treachery are supposed to be encouraged under this way which is most threatening to world diplomacy and seems to presage an international betrayal of good faith. Labor is subject to strongly disturbing influences, which may precipitate serious conflicts with merchants as well as manufacturers. In the public mind, perplexity and confusion may be dominant. The stars presage political and social blunders and lack of tact and diplomacy. Victories from foreign lands are to be revealed in New York and Washington with brilliant hostilities, but there may be untoward, international incidents, the secret war. King Fakh of Egypt is subject to threatening omens, which seem to presage many secret plots against him. He will be worried by financial difficulties. Efforts to boycott Japanese imports may cause clashes among residents of Oriental quarters in Pacific Coast cities, astrologers warn. Loss of trade will disturb Tokyo. Women should preach peace through their organizations, astrologers declare, but at the same time they should be prepared to render Red Cross service. Persons whose birthday it is have the augury of a year of more or less uncertainty. Friends will help to bridge any breaks in income. Children born on this day probably will be methodical, prudent and farseeing. Subjects of this sign usually command confidence and retain the support of friends. Adolph Zukor, motion picture producer, was born on this day, 1873. Other who have celebrated it as a birthday include James Burrill Angel, educator and diplomat, 1878 and T. Dewitt Talmage, preacher, 1812. (Copyright) McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Important Major Hockey Battles Scheduled

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

ALTHOUGH the rule makers of the National Hockey League have made several important changes in recent years to make the play more acceptable to the patrons, who indicated a desire for a more open scoring style, there are still plenty of squawks around the circuit over the number of tie games. There is not yet enough scoring to suit all hands.

The great majority of the customers dislike to be sent out into the cold night following the 20 minutes of overtime, during which the clubs get no closer to a decisive result than they did in the regulation hour. Many of the sports and fans are after a sudden-death period. The folks might be late for breakfast on rare occasions, but they would enjoy it.

One of the principal reasons for the tremendous interest in baseball year in and year out is that there practically always is a winner. Ball clubs play until dark, if necessary. It is true that hockey takes much more out of the participants than baseball, but on the other hand, where did you ever see an anemic puck-chaser?

The bosses have tried to bring about more goals. The three areas of the ice, the forward pass in the centre area, and kicking the puck all came into existence in the season of 1918-19 to mark the most sweeping changes. In 1921 it became permissible for goalies to pass forward in defensive areas. In 1927 legislation was passed allowing forward passes in attacking zones. Two years later forward passes were made legal in all areas.

The penalty shot, a spectacular addition, was changed only this winter to give the shot-making player a better chance to score. There were also moves to curb the icing of the puck by a team that is hard-pressed but all full strength. Still one deadlock follows another, to the disappointment of those who pay the freight.

Sport ramblings—Here's some information for the Messrs. Waners and Medwick. . . . Dan Daniel, baseball expert of the New York World-Telegram, says factory tests have proved the so-called "deader" ball the National League will use next season is less than 1 per cent slower than the ball in the American League. . . . That Hank Luisetti must do it with mirrors. . . . No one could be as good as the Stanford basketball. . . . According to all books his 50 points against Duquesne the other night is an all-time record. . . . If Solly Krieger, the Brooklyn middleweight, keeps on knocking out fellows like George Black and Billy Conn, the Messrs. Freddy Steele and Fred Apostoli will have to make more room in the top flight.

Cavarretta Will Start as Regular

CHICAGO — Phil Cavarretta, 21-year-old youngster of the Chicago Cubs will start the 1938 training campaign as regular first baseman, foreign "Rip" Collins to beat him out of the job if he can. Charlie Grimm, manager of the Cubs, made this announcement yesterday as he arrived to go over spring training activities with Philip K. Wrigley, owner of the team, at Catalina Island next month.

NEW YORK—Vittorio Venturi, 148, Italy, outpointed Frankie Blair, 148, Camden, N.J., ten.

Americans Have Chance To Draw Even With Leafs

Red Dutton's Lads Go Up Against Detroit; Toronto Opposes Maroons

Rangers-Chicago

Of all National Hockey League managers, Lester Patrick is one who doesn't let little adversities knock him into a loop. And when a team like Chicago Black Hawks kicks his New York Rangers around a little, Lester doesn't get panicky and yell for help. He takes in slack, mends fences and prepares a campaign—just as he set about making over his whole club when Rangers' veterans began to slip three years ago.

All the Patrick cunning will be turned loose on the Hawks tonight at Chicago, for they have stepped to victories over Rangers in each of their three meetings this season, 3 to 1, 2 to 1 and 3 to 1. Rangers are eight points ahead of Chicago now, but if they had won those three games they'd have six points more and Chicago six points less. The Blueshirts would be just one point behind Boston's group leaders.

One thing the Silver Fox is bound to do. He'll tell his players to stay on the ice tonight. Penalties have played big parts in the three losses and Coach Bill Stewart has told the Hawks what he learned while he looked at the game as a referee, that penalties are nice things to lure the opposition into.

BOSTON IDLE

Patrick's men can advance to within five points of Boston's idle Bruins by winning, while Detroit Red Wings, heartened by a 2 to 0 win over Montreal Canadiens Tuesday after a nine-game winless streak, can climb to within two points of Chicago by beating the Americans at New York. In the night's other game Toronto plays the luckless Maroons at Montreal, with a possibility at hand that Americans will tie Toronto for first place in the Canadian division.

But no one other than the Maroons is predicting they will join the Maple Leafs and let Amerks slip into a first-place tie. Tommy Gorman still hasn't strengthened the club he took over last week when Maroons left King Clancy go as coach.

Gorman is reported to have discussed a trade with Detroit involving anywhere from four to eight players but he said last night that was "all off." Red Wings and Maroons couldn't see eye to eye in discussions that are believed to have involved Syd Howe and Hec Kilrea of Detroit and Baldy Northcutt, Herbie Cain, Earl Robinson and Jimmy Ward of Maroons.

Gorman hasn't signed a successor to Clancy, either. So Detroit and Maroons will struggle to better themselves tonight with line-ups little changed from those which have held cellar ratings all season.

Owens to Seek Reinstatement

CHICAGO — Jesse Owens, negro track and field star who had a falling out with the United States Amateur Athletic Union after winning four gold medals in the last Olympic Games, said yesterday he would apply for reinstatement as an amateur.

WRESTLING

TRENTON, N.J.—George Kovler, 230, Hollywood, Calif., and Wally Dusek, 220, Omaha, Neb., drew (both counted out after falling from ring).

NEWARK, N.J.—Sammy Stein, 215, Newark, pinned Jack Singer, 215, California, 16.28.

LOS ANGELES—George Zaharias, 215, defeated El Fulp, 198, Mexico, two of three falls.

PORTLAND, Ore.—Rajah Raul, 225, India, and Ted Key, 205, Los Angeles, drew, 30 minutes.

Portland Beats Varsity Cagers

PORTLAND—The winged tossers of Multnomah Club defeated a fighting University of British Columbia basketball team here last night by a margin of five free-throw shots, 56 to 51. Each team scored 23 field goals.

CRESCENTS IN ONE-POINT WIN

Whip Canadian Scottish 27 to 26 in Exciting Intermediate Cage Game

It is common talk among the cage followers who attend the High School cards that if Wimpy's Crescents were a little taller and had a couple more years of experience under their belts they would sweep everything before them in the intermediate A boys division.

Of late they have encountered tough breaks with last-minute defeats being chalked against them, but last night they finally turned the trick with a thrilling 27 to 26 triumph over the top-notch Canadian Scottish.

This was the most thrilling battle of the evening and one of the best witnessed this season. It was Davies who rang up the basket in the final three minutes to give Wimpy's "kids" their winning points. It was a torrid battle all the way with the Scots leading 9 to 7 at the interval.

West Road went down to a 52 to 22 defeat at the hands of Manager Frank Shandley's Hoyle-Brown hoopers in the final attraction of the evening, a senior tilt Walter Yeaman's Unitys marched up a fine 25 to 11 victory over Jack Taylor's Cardinals in a women's fixture.

"Moose" Rogin refereed.

The teams and scorers follow: Unitys—E. Snyder, B. F. Robertson, E. Mason, A. P. Goddard, E. Peden, C. Reid, J. M. Medler and J. McCallie. Cardinals—B. Crosby, A. P. White, E. J. Hall, A. Peden, D. M. Wells and J. Trotter.

Wimpy's Crescents—Horne, James, B. B. Stewart, Davies, 2. Fields, G. Williams, A. and Cooper.

Canadian Scottish—Lovell, A. Proker, Purdy, Bray, E. Moore, G. Dale, McCall, 2. Whyte and Hornsby.

Hoyle-Brown—Levy, E. Elliott, 2. Preston, McKeachie, McEwan, 14. H. McLean, 1. Caddell, G. Goldsmith, 3. Campbell.

West Road—E. Butler, 2. G. Munro, 1. B. Mitchell, 3. E. Young, 2. Cunningham, 3. Gunn, 6 and Grey.

Games scheduled Friday are as follows: 8.00—Ramblers, vs. Kingham-Gillespie. Intermediate A boys. 9.00—Liberty Cafe vs. Navy, senior B men.

BUFFALO WILL GET ICE TEAM

Toronto Leafs Will Transfer Syracuse Farm Club to New Location

WINDSOR, Ont.—There is a possibility that the present three members of the western division of the International-American Hockey League may be increased to four, according to John Chick, Windsor, president of the western group.

Reports of a planned transfer of Syracuse players to Buffalo, where they would continue to operate as a farm team for Toronto Maple Leafs, were confirmed by Chick. Toronto has operated the Syracuse team as a farm club since 1930.

Improvements at Syracuse Coliseum, good crowds at Syracuse games this season, and the fact that Ed Reilly and his Syracuse associates are certain to dig up another National League club for player connections will guarantee that hockey in Syracuse will not be discontinued, Chick said.

ORANGE, N.J.—Tony Galento, 218, Orange, knocked out Charley Massera, 185, Pittsburgh, three.

Boucher Goes To Bat For Referees

Coach of New York Rangers Declares Officials Should Be Supported

NEW YORK—Praise and a plea for better understanding of the complex problems facing National Hockey League referees, coupled with suggestions to make their difficult tasks easier, came today from Frank Boucher, coach of New York Rangers.

Gentleman Frank, who won permanent possession of the original Lady Bing Trophy for outstanding ability plus fine sportsmanship on the ice during the 11 seasons he starred as leading centre of the Broadway Blues, indicated in an interview he had little sympathy with managers, coaches and players who are continually beefing over official rulings.

"I am all in sympathy with President Frank Calder and the referees," he said. "I think referees try their best to officiate fairly and squarely although the strain they are placed under makes it an extremely difficult task."

"To begin with, the partisan crowds tend to sway their judgment as do the managers, coaches and players with their continual barrage of abuse and fault-finding."

"Probably this will draw ridicule on my head, but I think no manager, coach or player, on or off the ice, should be allowed to argue with the referee or try to show him up in any way by word or act. The captain only, of each team, should have the right to speak to the referee and then only on the point of a rule interpretation. In such cases the official should grant a hearing and consult the rule book, if necessary, to prove or disprove the point in question."

FINE VIOLATORS

Boucher suggested violators be given one warning and if they persisted in arguing or heaping abuse on the official a fine of $25 be assessed in the case of coaches or managers and $10 should the guilty one be a player. A third offender would be ordered off the bench or out of the game.

Frankie thought duties of the officials should be altered so one would mete out penalties and the other watch for offside at the blue lines. With only one issuing penalties there would be a more even distribution of sentences than now, when one official frequently is more lenient than his partner, he believed. This system, "might strike a happy medium."

"My advice to referees is that they block their ears with cotton, for an official who cannot hear the abuse heaped upon him is certain to be calmer and therefore more efficient," said Boucher. "The late Lou Marsh of Toronto adopted this method and found it satisfactory."

"When I played on the Pacific Coast years ago Mickey Ion was in his prime and the best referee

GALENTO WINS BY KNOCKOUT

Portly New Jersey Heavyweight Puts Massera Away in Third Round

ORANGE, N.J.—The gallant Tony Galento sleeps soundly to day, surfeited with the cheers of his adoring townsmen. Last night the gallant Galento leapt forward nimbly as a sperm whale, swished his mighty left onto the beckoning jaw of Charley Massera of Pittsburgh, and the crowd of 6,300 was half way out of the armory before they brought Charley around.

Seldom was there a much bigger night in Orange, take it as a whole. The knockout of Massera in the third round was almost incidental. Everybody knew Tony was going to do that as soon as he shook down his afternoon load of spaghetti. The real excitement was afterward, when two-ton Tony held open house.

"I wasn't myself tonight," volunteered Tony as he paused a moment to see for himself that the beer he was dispensing was up to the Galento standard. "Maybe I ain't been eating enough spaghetti, or maybe even I ought to cut down on the beer. But I couldn't get going against the Massera for a couple of rounds."

"I ain't myself against a second round, anyway. Now, against a pretty good boy like Joe Louis I box good. You know, move around and use my head, and I don't mean buttin' with it. But I gotta fight a good man before a show anything."

Tony's first battle in his hometown in six years left his followers more convinced than ever that he's the uncrowned champ.

A New York sports writer nearly got himself a shiner some time this morning because he suggested mildly that Louis or Schmelling might possibly be able to step around the gallant Galento and dust him off.

Legalize Bets On the Hounds

Western Ontario Wants Legal Pari-mutuel Betting On Dog Racing

LONDON, Ont.—A petition asking the Dominion Government to legalize pari-mutuel betting in connection with dog racing has been signed by 10,000 western Ontario greyhound racing fans.

In brief, the fans seek flood-light racing at night on a small, straight-away track where 50-cent bets would prevail. "Tops" in admission would be 25 cents or less.

Last summer exhibition races were staged several times in the vicinity of London. There are 31 breeders in London.

Legislation to legalize greyhound racing betting would have to be introduced in Parliament by a private member, G. A. P. Brickenden, member of the western Ontario Greyhound Association, said in an interview.

He said he had placed the matter before government officials for consideration.

Hudson's Bay and Gorge Hotel Capture Opening Pendray Cup Matches

Upsets marked opening games in the Pendray Cup series in the Victoria Wednesday Football League yesterday afternoon when favored eleven's tumbled to defeat. The present holders of the trophy, Hudson's Bay, scored a narrow 1 to 0 triumph over the Gorge Hotel came from behind to hand Spencers a 2 to 1 beating at Heywood Avenue.

Spencers put everything they had into the fight in the dying minutes in a last desperate attempt to even up the score. But their efforts went unrewarded. Their shots went everywhere but the right place, and when the final whistle sounded at Heywood Avenue, they were still trailing the Gorge Hotel.

The first half of the encounter was lax. Neither team showed much enthusiasm. Spencers, lacking the services of a couple of their stars, Daryl Bissell and Gordy Bell, took over a one-goal lead in this canto. The hotelmen, playing 10 men, were too slow on the ball and missed some fine opportunities to finish the half scoreless.

The Gorge boys took "Baldy" Roskamp, one of the "old men" of the game, off the retired list temporarily to fill in the vacancy on their line-up. It was he who made the openings for the two goals that carried them to victory. After the Gorge boys had notched the evening goal 15 minutes after the resumption, play speeded up, with both teams gunning for the marginal goal. This the hotel got 10 minutes from time.

In spite of their many stiff forays on the opposing goal, the departmentals just could not find the help in this half.

OPENING GOAL

The game was seven minutes old when Art Chapman let fly at the goal. The ball collided with "Shorty" Collins, however, and bounced high into the air. Charlie Saddler, Gorge Hotel goalie, came out to get it, but misjudged. The ball landed between him and the goal and before he could capture it the ball was in the goal. This gave Spencers a 1 to 0 lead at the interval.

Play was fairly even for the first 15 minutes after the change-over, with both teams being frustrated by able netminders. At this time the hotel got away fast and a fine combined effort between Roskamp and Carr in front of Spencers' posts resulted in Carr sagging the heap to throw the score into a deadlock.

Not many minutes of the game remained when Kirby Gent, inside left, accepted a pass from Roskamp from near centre field. He raced down the wing on a solo flight and then banged the leather into the corner of the net for the winning goal.

Both goalies turned in fine performances. Dave McMillan refereed.

The teams follow: Gorge Hotel—Stewardson, Moir, Cann, Raeside, L. Bradley, D. Bradley, Brown, Munro, Collins, Chapman and Byatt.

Spencers—C. Saddler, D. Gent, Eastwood, W. Saddler, Fieldhouse, Geoghegan, Roskamp, K. Gent, Carr, Barnswell and Alexander.

BAYS BEAT NAVY

Outplayed in the opening 45 minutes of play, Hudson's Bay put on the pressure in the final period and through Hubert Fogden, inside right, tallied the only goal of the match to emerge with the decision over the sailors.

The departmentals were forced back on to the defence most of the time in the first half, but in the final stanza staged many dangerous offensives that kept the Navy fullbacks and goalie busy.

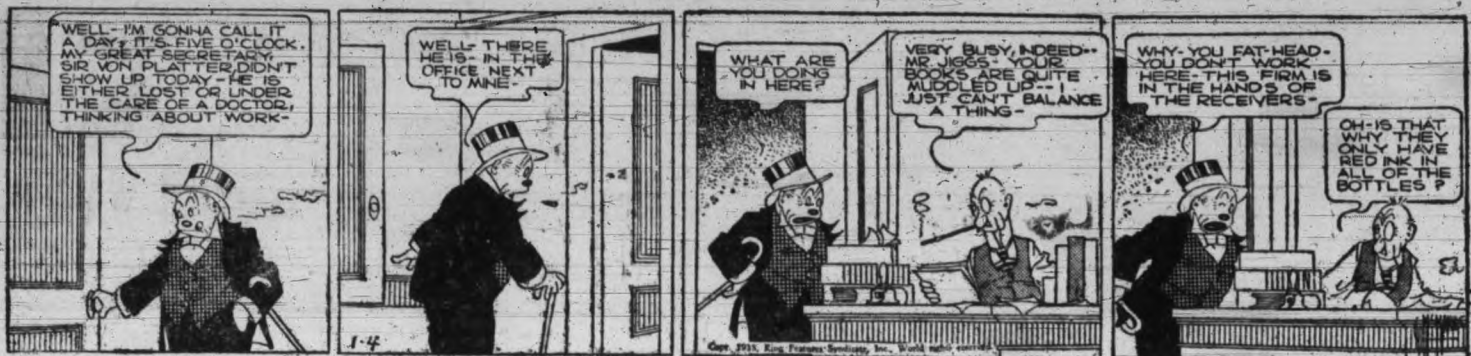

Louis DeCosta, Navy, net-minder, had an easy time in the first canto and it was seldom that he was called on to thwart an attempt on his docket. Bruce Robinson, centre half, made lots of openings for the naval brigade in this session, but the forwards failed to make them count, one of the main reasons being the stalwart defence maintained by Wyatt and O'Connell. Alex Ross fired away at the Bay goal at

Life in Ancient Egypt

IV—EGYPTIANS AT WAR

The Egyptians were not an extremely warlike people. It is probable that if they had been, they would not have gone so far ahead. At the same time, they did take part in war from time to time. Some of their kings wanted greater power and riches. Armies were sent to conquer people even beyond the Red Sea.

A king and soldiers.

For weapons the soldiers used spears, bows and arrows, battle axes, long knives and slings. Some traveled on foot, others in chariots. The art of marching together was learned, and the archers let loose their arrows in volleys. Shields were in common use, and some men wore helmets.

Among the battle pictures which have come down to us is one which you see today. The Egyptian is shooting an arrow. At the same time he is guiding his horses with the reins tied around his waist. The case at the side holds more arrows.

The capture of forts and walled cities was an important part of the war "game," but battles in the open were still more important. Thousands of men clashed together and did their best to wound or kill. The archers usually sent forth showers of arrows at the opening of the conflict. Then great lines of chariots were driven together, and the bloody fight went on.

The king usually remained safely back in his capital city, watching the building of temples or ordering his captains to see that the next pyramid was built properly. When a king did venture near the battle grounds, it was the custom for him to keep a safe distance from the actual fighting.

A few cases are known where Pharaoh became mixed in the heat of the battle. Rameses the Second once fell into serious danger, and it is a wonder that he was not killed. The Egyptians were at war with stubborn foes known as the Khittas. Spies from the Khita camp gave false news to the Egyptian generals, and two-thirds of the army had started away to another point. Suddenly the enemy attacked in full force. Rameses, feeling that he had been trapped, decided to sell his life as dearly as possible. He drove his chariot into the midst of the Khittas and smote right and left. Soon he saw that he had been cut off from his troops, but he did not surrender. The return of the soldiers who had left camp saved the monarch from death.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a business woman and, of course, am thrown with many men in my work. One of their favorite topics of lamentation is the pitiful state of the world since women got the vote. According to them, men are being deprived of all their economic, political and social rights because women are appropriating jobs, offices, salaries and the mastery of the home. It seems to me, as a middle-aged woman who would be glad to surrender job and her independence for a home, a husband and family, that if the conditions of woman's independence are so menacing to the world men ought to do something about it instead of merely cringing. If women have pushed themselves up to a plane of equality with men, why don't men push themselves still higher to a plane of superiority? If men object to married women holding jobs, why don't they come to an understanding before marriage that their wives are not to combine homemaking with wage-earning? I believe that most women, for all their talk of equality, would like to feel that men are their superiors in wisdom, in strength and in high-mindedness. So if men are sincere in their regret for their lost position as lords and masters of the universe, the remedy is at hand. They have only to be supermen.

A WAGE-EARNER.

Answer—Right you are, sister. Maybe it is traditional, maybe it is because God made 'em that way, but it is true that women want to look up to men and it is a blighting disappointment to them when men won't let them do it. Every woman wants to put her own man on a pedestal and burn incense at his feet, and when her little tin god tumbles off his perch and she sees that he is nothing but a fake—something that she has built up in her own imagination—it breaks her heart and fills her with shame for him, and for herself that she has loved so poor a thing.

Of course, when men blame women for everything that is wrong in this upset old world, it is merely an alibi for their own failures. For men are still running the government and industry and women have a very small finger in the pie. We have no woman president. No woman at the head of the steel trust, or any automobile industry. No woman financiers running big banks. You don't hear the go-getters complaining about the competition of women. Joe Louis isn't worrying over any woman challenging him for the championship. The men who have the brains and strength are still superior to women. In a family when the wife rules the roost it is because she has more sense and initiative than her husband.

When men complain so bitterly about women working outside of the home they ignore two very important things: One is that a woman has just as much right to life, liberty and the pursuit of a job as they have. And, secondly, that mighty few women work for the love of it. They work because they need the money. There is nothing so alluring, exciting and amusing about pounding a typewriter all day, or standing behind a counter that would cause any sane woman to leave a comfortable home just for the diversion she got out of it.

Nearly every woman would rather have a husband, a home and a baby than a job. When a girl goes to work she doesn't look forward to spending her whole life keeping books or selling blouses or what-not. It is just a makeshift to carry her through the lean days until she gets a man to bring home the bacon. When, after marriage, she continues to work, it is because her husband cannot make enough to support them in comfort, or because she feels that she can help him to get along faster by adding her earning power to his.

It is all just part of a new economic era, and if men want to dominate it they have got to show that they are better men than the women are.

Trump Suit Handling Paves Way to Make Contract After Declarer Chooses Proper First Lead

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

SOLUTION TO PREVIOUS CONTRACT PROBLEM

It was a fortunate thing for North that he had studied the play of masters in the handling of honor combinations. Had he blindly followed the old rule of winning with the king. A low club was returned, West winning with the ten. A spade was returned, which declarer ruffed. A small club led and won with the ace on dummy. A small diamond led and when West played the eight, declarer played the nine spot.

The ace of diamonds now picked up West's last trump. Another diamond led and East was squeezed. He held the king of clubs and four hearts. He gave up a heart and declarer made the last four tricks in that suit.

The declarer fulfilled his contract by two fine plays, first his play of the trump suit, and second, his early preparation for the squeeze, which was his only chance to make the contract.

leading first from the hand containing two honors he would have been licked before he started.

The ace of spades won the first trick, and North led a low diamond to the queen. This play was based on the best modern practice. If East held four trumps, then there was no way of preventing him from making a trump trick. However, if West held them all, then this way of playing the trump suit would permit the capture of every one of West's trumps. Any other distribution in the trump suit made no difference.

A low trump was returned and West played the ten, declarer

SAME SERVICEMayor McGavin Speaks On Transportation Question at Rotary Club"Buses mean a change, but I believe the City Council will see that the business districts will receive the same transportation facilities as under the present street railway system," Mayor
Andrew McGavin said in speaking before the annual civic luncheon of the Rotary Club in the Empress Hotel this afternoon.The agreement between the city and the B.C. Electric Company for light, power and transportation was coming up this year, the mayor said. The city had been advised that the company did not wish to carry on the street railway.Another question which required public opinion and help was an airport for the city, the mayor said. He had been told that the trans-Canada Air Service would begin service in February, using Vancouver as a terminal."If this happens it means that Victoria is off the air map entirely," Mayor McGavin declared.
"I feel that this club should arouse people to see that the city gets a satisfactory air connection with the rest of Canada."The mayor said that the provincial government had located a forestry camp on Mount Douglas and was grading a road over the top of the mountain."If the Rotary Club has allocated any money for the construction of this road, as it did some years ago, now is the time to use it before the camp closes," the mayor said.Mayor McGavin briefly mentioned the refunding scheme, except to say that it was an accomplished fact, and that at a later date the city hoped to still further reduce the interest rate.Carl Pendray, a former mayor of the city, in introducing the present incumbent to the members of his club, gave him some advice in a lighter vein.George Pearson, Minister of Labor, spoke briefly saying that the problems of 1938 were not different to the problems of former years.The real problem of today is the problem of human relationship.Alderman James Adam introduced the following aldermen to the club: Aldermen R. C. Dewar,
Archie Willis, Ed. Williams, S. H.
O'Keefe, W. Lloyd Morgan, John
Worthington, Alex. Peden, B. J.
Gadsden and W. H. Davies.Jack McKay introduced Al Davis, a former member who has returned to the club. Frank Tur-ley introduced George Matheson, a new member.Mrs. W. R. Gunn entertained the Rotarians with two songs.
She was accompanied by Miss E.
Dumbleton.Capt. T. S. Goodlake, president, was in the chair.Aldous Leaves

RATE SHORTLYAnnouncement of Charge to Be Made to Oak Bay to Be Announced SoonAnnouncement of the price Victoria would ask for supplying water to Oak Bay this year will be announced shortly, Mayor
Andrew McGavin stated today, following an informal conversation with Reeve R. F. Taylor, Oak Bay.The mayor was not prepared to state definitely what charge would be made. However, when the Saanch agreement was prepared the price was raised from 7 cents per 1,000 gallons to 9.27 cents. Oak Bay's previous price was 7.5 cents per 1,000 gallons.
On the same basis of increase,
Oak Bay's rate would be in the neighborhood of 10 cents a thousand.The existing agreement with Oak Bay has already expired.On the Saanch issue, it is the intention of the city to press for payment on the higher rate pending possible institution of its own supply system by that municipality.B.C. WATCHING

G.N. VICE-PRESIDENT

Frank R. Newman of Minneapolis has been appointed traffic vice-president of the Great Northern Railway, according to advices received by Harry Douglas, general agent.

Mr. Newman, who is well-known here, leaves the traffic vice-presidency of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie Railway, succeeding Harry H. Brown of St. Paul, Minn.

Mr. Newman began his railway career in 1905 with the Washburn road, and a year later joined the Michigan Central. After a year as chief clerk to the traffic manager, he was promoted to assistant general freight agent in Buffalo in 1918. In 1920 he went to Detroit in the same capacity.

In 1922 he became general traffic manager of the Soo Line in Minneapolis, and three years later was appointed vice-president in charge of traffic.

Industrials And Rails Gain Today

Thebaud Slightly Damaged in Bay

GLoucester, Mass. (AP)—The famed Gloucester fishing schooner Gertrude L. Thebaud was damaged early today when she sprang a leak after grounding off her dock. She will have to be repaired before taking to sea again.

Warmer Bathing Off This Coast

Offshore Temperatures on West Coast Claimed to be 13 Degrees Warmer Than in Coastwise Inlets

NANAIMO (CP)—British Columbians who plan holiday expeditions on the west coast of Vancouver Island next summer will find warmer bathing conditions 40 miles offshore than in the bays and inlets of the coast. Observations show that offshore waters in summer have temperatures from 63 to 68 degrees Fahrenheit, while those close to land are between 50 and 55 degrees.

John P. Tully of the Pacific Biological station here attributes this to the prevailing summer winds from the northwest. The wind creates a current which is not parallel, but veers to the right of it whenever possible, carrying sun-warmed waters out to sea.

This is replaced by sea water from cold depths and streams pouring from the thawing mountain snows.

GIANT LOBSTER

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—A lobster weighing 32 pounds and having a claw spread of four feet two inches was brought in here yesterday by a fishing schooner.

The giant crustacean was perfect in every detail and was exhibited alive.

VETERAN RAILWAYMAN

MONTREAL—David Pottinger, 94, one of Canada's oldest railwaymen and former general manager of the old Inter-Colonial Railway, died at his home here yesterday. He retired in 1913.

Vancouver Shipping

VANCOUVER—Ms. Hikawa Maru, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, is in port loading for Japan and will sail January 11 with passengers, mail and a cargo of salt herring, spelter, concentrates and paper.

British ship Viking Star was in New Westminster Tuesday loading 35,000 boxes of apples and 1,200 tons of general cargo.

Royal Mail Line's Ms. Lochgoil was at the National Harbor board oil tanks here yesterday loading oil for Europe.

Fruit Express Line reefer ships scheduled for loading on the Fraser River this month were reported a few days overdue. Latest arrival dates reported were January 16 for Ms. British Columbia Express and January 21 for Ms. California Express.

Icebreakers On Venice Canals

VENICE (AP)—Firemen manning icebreakers last night kept the city's famous canals from freezing over.

The coldest snap in years threatened to disrupt Venice communications in below-freezing weather felt throughout northern Italy.

Ice covered a large part of the Venetian lagoon, halting boat service to the mainland.

NEW YORK (AP)—Industrial

stocks hatched on to the rails in today's market and chugged up the recovery track for gains running to 4 points generally. There were a few wider swings.

While extreme advances were cut down in some instances in the closing hour by profit-realizing, many favorites finished at or near best levels of the day.

Volume was small the greater part of the session, but the ticker tape fell behind for a brief interval on the concluding sprint.

Strength in secondary carrier bonds and wheat futures was thought to have been a factor in the buying revival.

Steels, coppers, motors, oils, rubbers, farm implements and miscellaneous issues were well out in front. Even utilities, hesitant for a time, achieved some popularity on the final lap.

Brokers attributed the better performance of the list partly to the speculative belief many sour corporation profits figures expected for the last quarter may have been discounted and an intermediate comeback at least was in order.

Transfers approximated 1,200,000 shares.

Helping to buoy market spirits, especially in the carriers, was the agreement of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, subject to approval of the I.C.C., to tide over the Baltimore & Ohio with loans totaling more than $8,000,000.

The road's stocks and bonds pushed up briskly.

Dow Jones Averages

closed today as follows:

Thirty Industrials—128.97, up 4.51.

Forty rails—30.58, up 1.41.

Twenty utilities—21.45, up 0.50.

Forty bonds—92.57, up 0.38.

INT. NICKEL UP 2 POINTS

TORONTO (CP)—Stocks appeared to be in supply this afternoon on Toronto Exchange, but the close was well up for the day.

International Nickel was again a base metal feature, touching 48 1/2 and closing with nearly two points to the good.

Noranda, Smelters and Hudson Bay added a point or more. Ventures advanced a half dollar and Falconbridge, Waite, A. Mulet, Sherritt, Sudbury Basin, Jack Waite and Base Metals Corporation and Eldorado finished about 10 up, around 2.48.

Gains were posted for Home, Oklaite, Anglo-Canadian, Spy Hill, East Crest and Hargal. Koyauite weakened a point in odd-lot trading.
